

The FCC is spinning its wheels and NOT providing the leadership needed to move the US telecommunications industry forward. We have had two+ years of implosions with little direction and FACTUAL, technical understanding demonstrated by the Chairman.

It is clear that the ILECs are still acting monopolistic. CLECs are barely surviving and if they survive, it's with significantly reduced market penetration.

The ILECS should be required to match broadband and service rates seen in South Korea and Europe OR turnover the copper wire to my house AND yours to third party within 12 months.

Regards,
John Green
CEO
OFDM Wireless Inc
(512) 339-2301